Preface

We proudly present the Feelgood by Brinker collection of 2024. This updated catalog is filled with beautiful photos and inspiration. In this collection you will find new shapes, colours and structures that are based on the latest living trends. Made from precious, natural materials and with an eye for detail.

The name Feelgood indicates exactly what we want to convey: an attractive, homely and good feeling at home with the rug serving as the ultimate finishing touch. A rug creates warmth and harmony into any room.

The collection comes largely from our own production in Bikaner India with a team of driven and experienced weavers. We work with standard sizes, which are in stock and are delivered within two weeks. With the Feelgood Custom Sizes collection you can compose a unique rug in the shape, size and colour of your choice.

We wish you a lot of fun selecting and composing a Feelgood by Brinker rug.

Step-by-step plan

CHOOSE YOUR SPACE & FUNCTION

The size of the rugs depends on the size of the available space and the function of your rug. A dining room, with a table and chairs on a rug, has a different starting point than a sitting area or a bedroom. The position of the walls also determines the look of your rug. For example, a small space – surrounded by walls – requires a smaller rug.

PLAIN OR DESIGN?

Subdued colours and minimalist designs give a spatial effect. When opting for a plain rug, going larger is often more appealing. This not only enlarges the space but also cultivates an air of opulence and refinement. A rug with a more pronounced colour or design is ideal when seeking to make a room feel smaller and cozier, or if you wish to impart a distinctive focal point. If you opt for such a standout piece, it is often nicer to position the rug separately from the sofa. As a result, the rug remains visible in its entirety, allowing it to truly shine.

WHAT SHAPE?

Round, straight or an organic shape, everything is possible. Straight and round designs offer a sleek appearance. With a round rug you break through all straight lines in the house, it softens and creates a playful effect. A round rug is perfect in a square room. A rug in a round shape or in a special shape makes the room appear larger by leaving more of the floor exposed. Organic shapes actually soften your interior, you place them as islands on your floor. These rugs can also serve to emphasize transform, or expand your living area, bringing a cozy and inviting ambiance to any room.

WHAT NUMBER?

Play with shapes, from round to organic. Change viewing directions and accents in your interior. Go for a surprising look and choose 'layering' or 'connecting'. You do this by placing several rugs on top of each other, but you can also slide rugs together for a tighter whole. Vary as much as you like with designs and plains, but also certainly with size, shape and therefore also the number. Unleash your creativity! Explore the other Brinker collections as well.

CREATE YOUR OWN SEATING AREA STYLE

Residential island

You create a beautiful living island by placing all furniture legs on the rug. This option is very suitable in large living spaces.

Connect the seating area

Connect the seating area by placing the front legs on the rug. A good guideline is to place the rug about 15-20 cm under and next to the sofa. This option is very suitable when the furniture is against the wall on one side.

Free-lying rugs

You can change or elevate or transform the focus of your living space. Aim to maintain the rug's size roughly equal to the width of the sofa and the length extending to the ends of the armchair(s). Ideally, the coffee table should sit entirely on the rug. Free-standing rugs work exceptionally well for 'connecting' and 'layering' elements in your décor scheme.

STYLING

CREATE YOUR OWN DINING ROOM STYLE

A nice balance is created in the dining room when the shape of the rug follows the shape of the table. A round table on a round carpet or an oval table on an oval carpet create strong combinations. Make sure that the rug is at least 60 cm wider on each side - even better is 90 cm - so that the chairs are always on the rug.

CREATE YOUR OWN STYLE BEDROOM

Soft on the feet, that's what you're aiming for. There are also plenty of options for the bedroom. A large sleeping island exudes luxury. If you cherish the beauty of your flooring and wish to showcase it, consider opting for a distinctive shape. This way you keep the floor in sight while enjoying the plush warmth of a soft surface.

A round rug introduces a pleasing contrast to the straight lines in your living area. The braided design of Bellano adds a touch of natural charm to the ambiance. In your dining room, achieving a harmonious balance is key, and one effective way is to align the rug's shape with that of the table. Ensure that the rug extends at least 60 cm beyond each side - even better is 90 cm - to ensure that the chairs always remain on the rug. Don't overlook the importance of a non-skid underlay, which is an ideal addition for this setup.

This deep-pile, shaggy rug is crafted from a blend of eighty percent polyester and twenty percent wool, resulting in a captivating and dynamic texture. New Paulo is a perfect versatile addition to any home due to the use of two distinct yarns. The handwoven craftsmanship adds an inviting ambiance and cozy warmth to the room.

It is evident that both aesthetics and well-being are important considerations.

Rugs play a significant role in minimizing dust mites within your home. The rug's texture effectively captures dust particles, reducing the likelihood of them being inhaled. This, in turn, has a beneficial impact on respiratory health.

Another great advantage of a rug is that it dampens sound. The fabric materials do not reflect the sound, which improves the acoustics in your home.

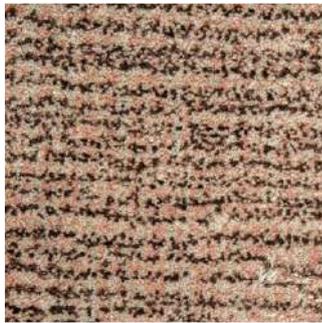

This hand-tufted rug features a contemporary tweed design. The New Zealand wool makes it wonderfully soft and a pleasure to walk on with your bare feet. Rome is available in four stunning trendy colours, allowing for effortless coordination with your living space.

New Vintage

Each of these patchwork rugs is one-of-a-kind, truly unique in its own way. These rugs - sometimes dating back as far as eighty years - undergo a meticulous transformation process by skilled artisans in Turkey. They are carefully deconstructed by hand, then washed, dyed, cut and thoughtfully reassembled, paying close attention to aesthetics and craftsmanship! This approach beautifully aligns with sustainability values, and we proudly refer to it as New Vintage.

MATERIALS

Wool

Wool possesses the unique quality of fluid regulation, making a wool rug a source of delightful comfort, particularly due to its sound-absorbing attributes.

Furthermore, wool is known for its durability, ease of maintenance, and its ability to purify the air by capturing dust particles, making it an excellent choice for individuals with allergies.

A wool rug is less susceptible to stains. A wool rug is dirt-resistant due to its natural greasy layer, which makes it more difficult for stains to adhere. Another great property of wool is that it is naturally difficult to catch fire. This makes a wool rug more suitable for laying near the fireplace.

Is sustainability important to you? A wool rug is also an excellent choice. Wool, known for its durability, is resistant to wear and tear. Moreover, it can be easily recycled, making it a far more eco-friendly and sustainable option compared to synthetic materials.

New Zealand wool

New Zealand is renowned as the land of merino wool, where sheep seemingly outnumber humans. The merino sheep, often referred to as the "king of sheep", is prized for producing the highest quality wool. The fibers of this type of wool are long and very soft. Due to the strong shrinkage, merino wool offers impressive elasticity and a relatively subtle shine. It is also remarkably fine, with thinner fibers compared to regular sheep's wool.

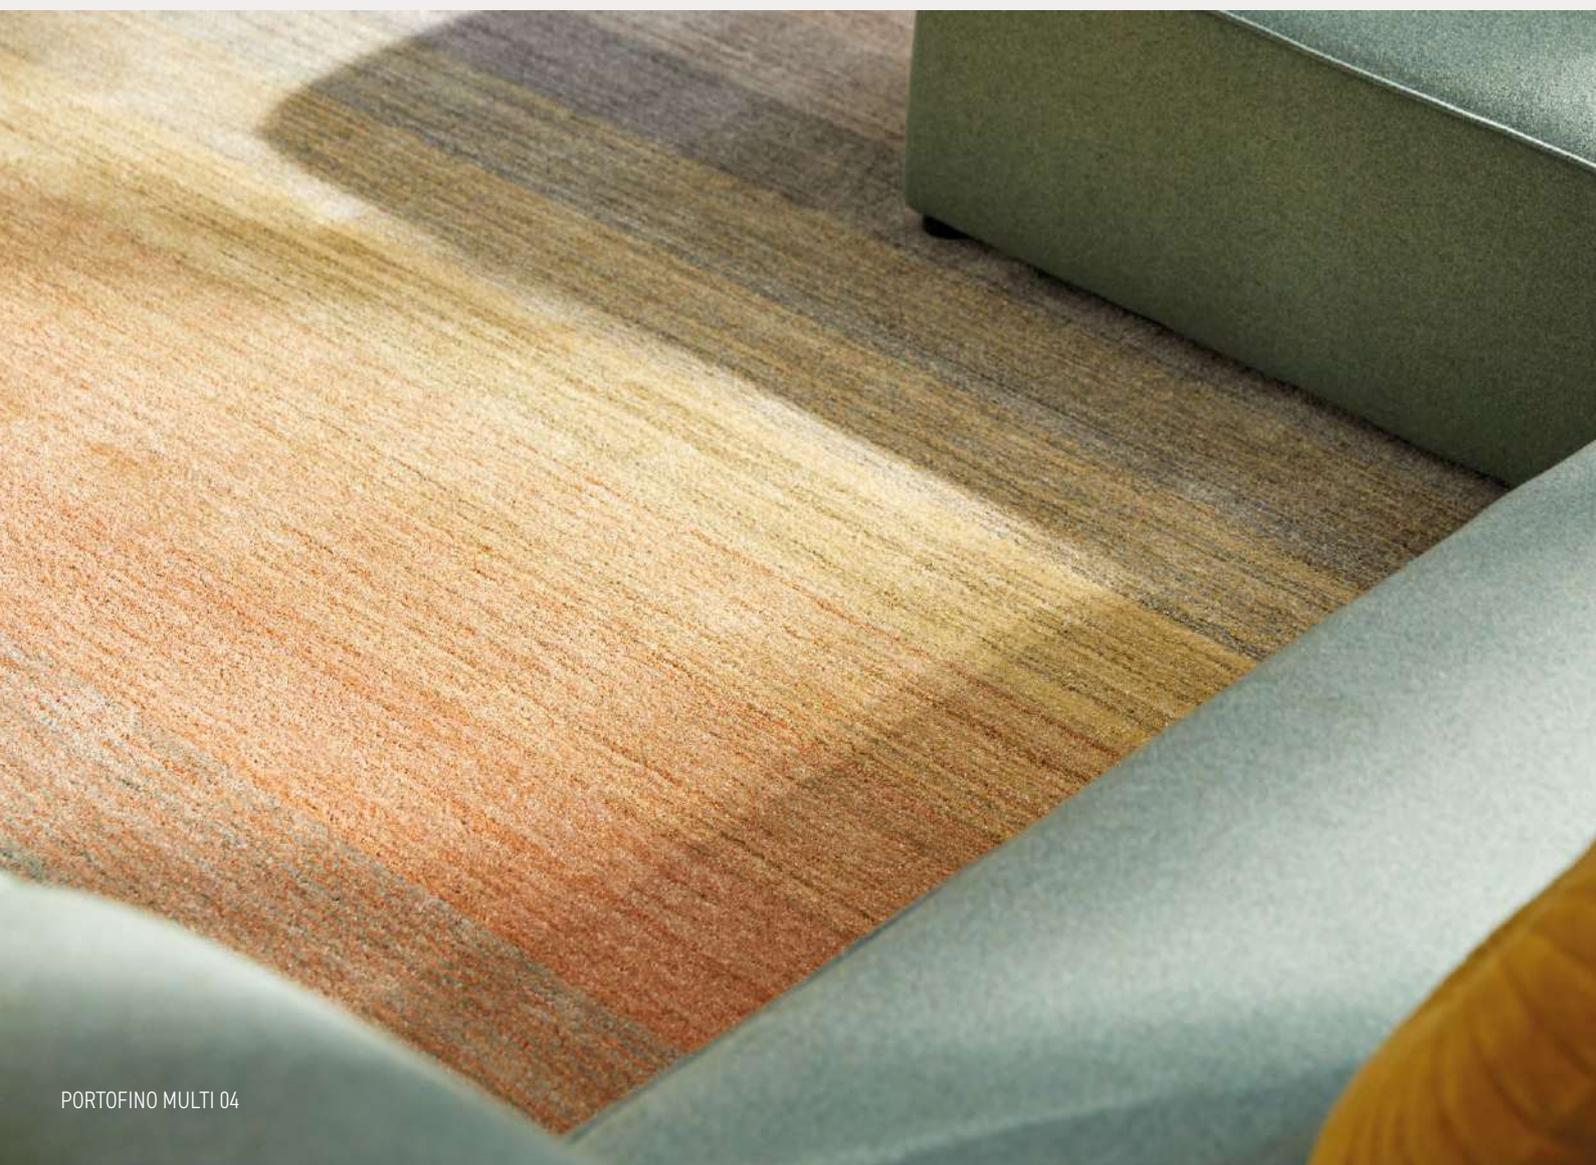

Blended wool, on the other hand, is a combination of merino and coarse wool. Blended wool is not as curly as merino wool, but inherits the exceptional properties of pristine virgin wool. Isn't that fascinating? Its applications extend beyond fabric manufacturing, as it's particularly favoured for crafting home textiles.

Viscose

When you think of viscose, it might immediately bring to mind the luxurious feel of silk. The comparison with silk is made because viscose closely resembles silk in both appearance and texture. The costs, on the other hand, are much lower. A viscose rug therefore stands as one of the most trendy and cost-effective choices available today.

ROME GOLD 05

Despite its origin from paper, viscose doesn't compromise on the look and feel when compared to genuine silk. To counteract its susceptibility to creasing, viscose used in rugs is oftend blended with natural materials like cotton and wool. Another appealing feature of viscose is its ability to impart a nice sheen to a rug's surface.

Due to the dynamic appearance, the incidence of light ensures that a rug made of this material can appear slightly different each time. Especially in combination with a beautiful design, a viscose rug brings a truly unique and captivating dimension to your interior!

Polyester & PET

Polyester, a synthetic material derived from oil, is melted down and spun into yarn for weaving rugs. The look and feel of polyester can be compared to that of wool. This means that these rugs provide a warm, beautiful appearance in your interior. Furthermore, this material boasts exceptional durability, retaining its colour and shape over time. The advantage of polyester rugs? They are cheaper than natural materials, easy to keep clean and stains are easy to remove.

Polyester yarn, when combined with PET yarns, contribute to heightened environmental friendliness and sustainability. Rugs crafted from this blend of yarns are a conscientious and eco-friendly choice.

AREZZO SILVER 119

BRINKER NON-SKID

For optimal comfort, lifespan, but certainly also safety, a non-skid rug pad placed beneath your rug - is a must. It is suitable for any type of floor; parquet, wood, marble, tiles and PVC floors. A BRINKER NON-SKID should not be excluded in any case for the following reasons:

Lifespan extension

We all desire longevity for our rugs, don't we? To achieve this, place the non-skid rug in its entirety beneath your new rug. This minimizes any rug movement, preserving its structure and beauty for an extended period.

Resilience

NON-SKID also enhances walking comfort. The resilience of the non-skid rug pad absorbs the majority of the forces, reducing wear and tear on the rug itself.

Safety

The name actually says it all: NON-SKID or anti-slip. It prevents you from slipping on a loose rug. It also prevents the formation of bumps under the carpet, reducing the risk of tripping.

Discolouration

Afraid that your floor will discolour due to the non-skid rug? No need to be! In some cases, such as oiled floors, epoxy floors, PVC floors and laminate, discolouration may occur. This discolouration is not caused by the non-skid carpet itself, but rather by the materials within these specific types of flooring. This risk of discolouration and alterations to the subfloor is present whether you use a rug with or without a non-skid pad, and it's ultimately at your discretion to decide how to proceed.

Underfloor heating

Do you have underfloor heating? In that case, it's advisable to opt for the NON-SKID rug pad, especially when your rug has a latex backing. This choice prevents the backing from drying out and prolongs the lifespan of your rug.

NON-SKID with viscose rugs

The NON-SKID is strongly recommended for rugs with viscose or tencel yarns.

GRUNGE SILVER  bhm-feel-good-003-98x148-frx-frzw-mfotw

Summarizing

BRINKER NON-SKID can be used with any type of floor, gives virtually no discolouration and has a positive effect on the heat permeability of underfloor heating. It even transfers the heat better than if no non-skid is used.

* The lack of a NON-SKID has a major impact on the warranty of the rug.

Maintenance and stain removal

Brinker collaborates closely with James, a renowned cleaning and maintenance expert, to provide you with tailored maintenance guidance for rugs. James offers a distinct service known as “the James Personal Maintenance Advice” designed to assist you in any situation.

Cleaning with water

The James stain disc indicates that 90 percent of all fresh stains can effectively be removed with a simple treatment of water using a damp cloth.

Accurate dosing

James provides a clear dosage ring when using their cleaning products. By following these instructions, you can ensure that the product performs at its best, leaving your rug will impeccably clean again. Avoid sharp objects.

Maintenance

To preserve your carpet, it's essential to use a vacuum cleaner with a smooth nozzle, avoiding (rotating) brush attachments, vacuum cleaner robots, or other devices with brushes, as this will accelerate the wear and tear of the yarn.

In addition to following our cleaning and maintenance advice for your carpet, we advise you not to place pointed or sharp objects on the carpet.
